

Social performance simplified

Insite is a flexible, cloud-based social performance management platform that enables users to streamline the collection and validation of social sustainability data. The result is reporting on social performance requirements that is as reliable as the reporting out of accounting systems.

Insite manages and optimises regulatory compliance requirements and processes relating to the implementation and reporting of Social and Labour Plans, Mining Charters, B-BBEE, Employment Equity and WSP's/ATR.

Data driven insight

Insite offers end to end automation in social sustainability data across Human Resources, Training, Procurement, and Community Development. As a centralised platform, the Insite solution ensures social performance is managed efficiently and effectively through the integration of transformation objectives and compliance requirements.

Reporting categories

Human Resources: Insite turns your payroll data into workforce information

Procurement: Easily report on your preferential procurement results through Insite's expenditure reports.

Training: Align the organisation's training & skills development plans to achieve the greatest social sustainability impact to compliance requirements.

Community Development: Designed to not only capture data related to development projects in communities, but to facilitate good governance and affect CSI expenditure.

Data integrity

You can only know your impact if you understand your data. There is a wealth of social sustainability data in legacy business systems. Insite helps identify the available social sustainability and transformation data, the quality of the data, and identifies errors right down to the source. This leads to confident reporting and decisions.

Data matrix tool

Improve your organisation's data integrity using Insite's cutting edge Data-Matrix tool which enables you to easily determine the quality and completeness of your data across various reporting categories.

Risk management

Effectively manage your compliance risk in human resources, training and procurement data using a variety of tools and dashboards to measure trends, progress against targets and social performance risks.

Data consolidation

Traditional business silos are bridged to give social performance practitioners and executives a view across the whole organisation, leading to greater awareness and coordination between divisions and locations..

Key indicators

Key indicators are reported on through various standardised reports that were purpose-built to make the impact of indicators on the business clear. Consolidated risk report displayed on the dashboard for fast and easy executive reports.

Document management system

Access a centralised database that hosts all social performance related documents, enhancing your ability to audit and track source data and supporting documentation.
